Saturday 28th April saw the start of an amazing new adventure for Friends-International and Cambodia program Mith Samlanh, one that will radically transform the existing Mith Samlanh center in the heart of Phnom Penh into a melting pot of creativity, social enterprise and community collaboration, to be known as Futures Factory.

The preview party was an opportunity to say a last 'goodbye' to the building as it was, and to welcome its transition to Futures Factory. A dance performance within the walls of the old canteen finished by breaking out into what will be the external public space for the Factory, where guests enjoyed food, drinks and chilled music accompanying projections of the concepts underpinning the Futures Factory.

A blessing and groundbreaking ceremony, followed by presentations to long term staff set the scene for an afternoon and evening of celebration and looking forward... the Futures Factory Preview Party!
